How to Submit a Pet Insurance Claim Appeal

Dear MetLife Pet Insurance Customer,

Our claims decisions are based upon documentation provided by the treating veterinarian. If additional information is available, we will re-evaluate your denied claim.

When a claim is processed you are provided with one of the following:

- A written explanation of benefits with your reimbursement; or
- A denial letter explaining the grounds for the denial of your claim.

In the event you are not satisfied with the outcome of your claim, you may request a second review. The request must be submitted in writing to MetLife Pet Insurance no later than 90 days, or as reasonably practicable, after receiving the explanation of benefits or denial letter.

If you feel your claim has been wrongfully denied based upon our understanding of your Pet's condition, the treating veterinarian must complete and submit the MetLife Pet Insurance Claim Appeal Form and provide any additional supporting documentation (not previously submitted) necessary to re-evaluate your claim such as:

- Clarification of diagnosis (along with new diagnosis if applicable) within your Pet's legal medical records
- Clarification of symptoms / circumstances related to the claimed incident within your Pet's legal medical records
- Additional / Amended legal medical records

Once MetLife Pet Insurance receives all relevant documentation, your appeal will be reviewed, and a written decision will be provided to you within 45 business days.

For your convenience, we have attached an Appeal Form. Please have your veterinarian(s) complete the form and return it to MetLife Pet Insurance with any additional supporting documentation needed to re-evaluate your denied claim.
